Bavaria Joins in Abandonment of Passive Resistance, Helping Situation

ESSEN, Sept. 26.—Ruhr railroad workers unanimously decided today not to work for France.

BERLIN, Sept. 26.—Germany has believed today to have weathered the worst of the crisis caused by Chancellor Stresemann's unconditional surrender to France in the Ruhr. This success was due mainly to the fact that Prime Minister Brüning, of Bavaria, assented to abandonment of passive resistance. Every one had expected Von Brüning to bolt the conference owing to the hostility existing between Bavaria and Berlin. Contrary to general belief the Bavarian premier bowed to the inevitable realizing that to continue resistance against Franco-Belgian occupation was impossible.

A proclamation was issued saying: "The German president and government hereby are solemnly pledged before the German people and the entire world that they will not agree to any settlement which will sever the slightest piece of soil from the German state. Liberty for our German compatriots and freedom of German soil are not subject to bargaining nor negotiations. In order to preserve the life of the nation and state we are faced with the bitter necessity of breaking off the combat which has been waged in the Ruhr."

Advices from Munich stated that here was dissatisfaction there over the Berlin decision. The Bavarian situation was described as "explosive." The Bavarian fascists, led by Dr. Hitler, are making threats of force.

Reports state that the communists in the Ruhr are becoming more and more active, agitating against the French and British troops.

During the period of passive resistance, while the German government was pouring money into the Ruhr to support the idle workers, France supported the reds.

GREECE BLAMED

DEATHS

Must Pay 50,000,000 Lire Damages, Is Unanimous Decision of Ambassadors

PARIS, Sept. 26.—The inter-allied council of ambassadors has decided that Greece was partially responsible for the assassination of General Tellini and four colleagues upon Greek soil and that Italy is entitled to fifty million lire damages. It was said this afternoon by Italian authorities.

The commission, which investigated the killings, reported Greece blameless.

The council announced that a communiqué would be issued after the decision is sent to Athens and Rome.

It is understood that the English and French diplomats supported the Italian viewpoint that Greece's official search for the assassins was not conducted with sufficient vigor to be successful. It was claimed that the guilty persons were not arrested.

The foreign office stated that the ambassadors' decision was unanimous and that it "satisfied everybody concerned."

It was expected that the communiqué would be issued this evening.

The 50,000,000 lire claimed by Italy and awarded by the ambassadors is on deposit in the National bank of Switzerland.

Italy will evacuate Corfu tomorrow, thus closing an incident which for a time, threatened all southern Europe with war.

She was survived by her daughter, Mrs. Walton, and three sons, Henry and Frank Scholl, of Crafon and Earl of Elyria. Funeral services will be held at the home Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock, conducted by Rev. Edwin Kirby. Burial at Maplewood.

Myron Cunningham, Elyrian, To Observe
One Hundredth Anniversary On SundayPOLICE ORDER HINKSON TO TAKE DOWN 'MAYOR' BANNER

Harry Hinkson, democratic candidate for mayor, fired his first political gun yesterday afternoon, but it was soon silenced by Police Chief E. J. Stankard.

Workmen placed a large banner across the street in front of the library building reading, "Vote for Harry Hinkson for Mayor, and Live Within Your Means." Just as the banner was being placed, Chief Stankard appeared and asked what authority they had for putting it up. The man in charge said he had been ordered to put it up by Mr. Hinkson and that he had secured permission to use the poles of the green line to attach the banner to. Chief Stankard stated that there was an ordinance against it and the banner would have to come down. Hinkson appeared, and was told the situation. He wanted to see the ordinance, and was taken to the police station where it was read to him. This ordinance was passed by the council on July 24, 1914. It makes it unlawful for any person, firm or corporation to place any poster, sign, hand bill, or advertisement on any telephone or telegraph or electric light pole in any public place, street, alley or park, and provides a penalty of not over $100 for violation.

Banners have been placed across the street for the Red Cross, County Fair, Elks' Carnival, etc., advertising public events, but none advertising business or political candidates, and Chief Stankard states that there will be none as long as the ordinance lasts. Hinkson was considerably provoked, and stated that he would put his banner up on some private building.

Father Goes Back to New York After Wife and Three Children Die of Cholera at Rockport—Three Years Later, in 1920, The Family Came Back to This Section

Next Sunday will be a memorable day in the life of Myron Cunningham, for it marks his one hundredth birthday, an event that has been looked forward to by himself and his family with pleasure.

"Uncle Myron" as he is familiarly called by those who best know him will spend the day quietly at the home of Chas. R. Flower, 243 West River street, where he has made his home with his daughters for a number of years since leaving his farm. There will be no public reception, but his old friends and acquaintances are expected to call and pay their respects, and there will be another of those happy family reunions that the Cunningham family have been noted for years.

Born in New York Mr. Cunningham was born on a farm at Lancaster, N. Y., Sept. 30, 1823. In 1832 his father moved his family to Rockport, not far from the mouth of Rocky River. A few months later, the dread cholera swept the country, and took Mrs. Cunningham and three children. Discouraged and broken with grief the father took Myron and his sister, the only ones of the family to survive, and moved back to their old home in New York. In 1835 becoming infected with the western fever again he moved to a farm on Middle Ridge, and this became the home of Myron Cunningham, where he lived for many years.

Mr. Cunningham married Caroline Todd, and to them were born the following children: Frank, of Ft. Worth, Texas; Dora, who married Chas. R. Flower, whose death took place a few months ago; Mary who married W. H. Fisher now living with her husband at Worthington, near Columbus, Ohio; Stella, now Mrs. A. J. King, of Kansas City and Miss Grace, who has devoted her life to the care of her father, and who lives with him at the Flower residence.

Confined to Home Up to a little over a year ago Mr. Cunningham was frequently seen upon the streets, walking

HOW LEADERS SIZE UP IN OKLAHOMA KLAN WARFARE

OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 26.—Here are character sketches of the two principal figures in Oklahoma's "battle of capital hill."

WILLIAM DALTON McBEE, representative from Stephens county, an ex-cowboy. Spent his early manhood breaking "bucking horses" on the Mule Shoe ranch in Texas. Grew up hardy, but turned to a milder occupation, that of law, and today resembles a typical country school teacher. He is rather thin, mild manner and smiles kindly over horn rimmed glasses. He was born in Austin, Texas, and is 47 years old. He is married, father of five children, four boys and one girl. Was at one time state senator in New Mexico; now representative from Stephens county, Oklahoma, where he has lived and practiced law since 1896.

JOHN CALLOWAY WALTON, fifth governor of Oklahoma. An ex-locomotive engineer and salesman of electrical appliances. Six footer and weighs more than 200 pounds. Dynamic manner. Has "personality of rough and ready sort." Well liked by the so-called common people. Born on farm near Indianapolis, Ind., 42 years ago. Came to Oklahoma in 1904. Went into business, then politics. Was elected mayor of Oklahoma City, then governor of state. Entire career picturesque, stormy. In January, 1923, he instituted a vigorous campaign against the Ku Klux Klan which led up to the present situation.

REVOLT MOVEMENTS
SWEEPING EUROPE

ATHENS, Sept. 26.—A report was received from the Bulgarian frontier this afternoon that King Boris and the Bulgarian cabinet had fled from Sofia and that Premier Zankoff had been assassinated.

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 26.—A revolutionary outbreak took place in Turkey today. A former deputy in the national assembly at Angora, supported by a strong group of officers, has taken to the mountains where he is preparing to make war against the nationalist government. The rebels issued a proclamation opposing the Angora government.

The government has the situation well in hand and officials claim there is no possible chance of the revolution succeeding. However, the episode foreshadows an era of internal trouble in Turkey. Dis-

REV. J. H. GRANT IS PRESENTED WATCH

At the dinner at the Country Club last evening of the Rotary Club, and guests to the International Society for Crippled Children convention, Rev. J. H. Grant, was presented with a handsome gold watch and chain by his fellow Rotarians. The presentation speech was made by C. E. Losier. He was handed a package containing a miniature pulpit which on being opened was found to contain the gift. Rev. Grant made a fitting response, and expressed his regret at leaving his friends in the Club, saying that he had enjoyed many happy meetings with them.

PRESIDENT STATE
NOW OFFERS TWO
"VICE PRESIDENTS"

Senators Albee Pomerene, above, and Frank B. Willis.

That Ohio, known as the state of presidents, may see two of her native sons running for the vice-presidency next year, is a possibility, according to political chitchat from Washington. Senator Frank B. Willis is talked of as a possible running mate for President Coolidge and Senator Albee Pomerene's name is mentioned with that of Senator Royal S. Copeland of New York, for whom a "feeler" boom has been started in the east.

BOOZE VENDER FINED
$500 ON 2ND CHARGE

George Vase, 2174 E. 28th street, Lorain, was fined $500 and costs by Judge Webber this morning for illegal possession of liquor. This was a second offense for Vase, he having been fined $200 and costs at Lorain, on the same charge. The case was prosecuted by prohibition officer Frank Klady.

RIDIKER NOT ARRESTED

A recent item in this paper stated that Frank Ridiker, Brunswick, had been fined for the possession of a 50-gallon still. This was an error as Mr. Ridiker is a substantial citizen, and had sold this farm some years ago, and was not residing on it at the time the raid was made.

NO BLOODSHED AS ORDERS ARE READ;
LOBBY IS CLEARED

STATE CAPITOL, OKLAHOMA CITY, Okla., Sept. 26.—The Oklahoma House of Representatives failed this noon in their attempt to assemble in defiance of Governor J. C. (Iron Jack) Walton, when they tried to meet "under the constitution" as they said. They were dispersed by the military.

Speaker pro tem Charles S. Brice, of McClain county, at exactly 12 o'clock, called the House of Representatives to assemble in the rotunda of the capitol on the fourth floor just adjacent to the legislative chamber of the House of Representatives for determining whether a quorum was present.

Colonel W. S. Key, military commander of Oklahoma City, immediately interrupted and requested the legislators to maintain quiet, read the military orders directing that the legislators be dispersed.

He stated that it was his duty to disperse them and earnestly pleaded with the members that they do him the courtesy of dispersing quietly and in an orderly manner.

"Must Obey Orders"

"I have my orders from the adjutant general who has received his instructions from the governor," said Colonel Key. "I hope there will be no trouble, but you will do as I ask," he said firmly.

He read a special military order signed by Adjutant General Baird H. Markham which "forbids gathering or assembly of any or all of the members of the legislature at this state house at noon today, any other time or place within the state during the present period of unrest on the ground that such a gathering or meeting is an unlawful assembly in violation of the provisions of the constitution and laws and calculated to bring about a breach of the peace, provoke riot and institute a reign of anarchy and bloodshed."

There was a dramatic pause as Colonel Key, in robust language, read the military order.

Representative David A. Stovall, of Hugo, who stood facing Colonel Key asked him the direct question: "Are you commanding us, as members of the legislature, to disperse?"

"I am," responded Colonel Key.

"Have you the entire state militia at your command to enforce this order?" asked Representative Wesley E. Disney, legal adviser of the house of representatives.

Refuses To Answer

"I refuse to answer," was the colonel's reply. There was another pause.

"I want all of you to move on," commanded Colonel Key sharply.

The troops stood at attention. One of the guardsmen was back of a Browning machine gun.

Immediately there was a shuffle of feet and the "lawless mob" as the governor has termed them, made for the lone elevator that was running.

At 12:08 o'clock, eight minutes after the legislators had attempted to meet, the lobby was cleared and shortly after they were out of the building.

Governor Walton had insisted ever since he declared martial law on September 15 that the legislators, whom he termed a "Ku Klux Klan body," would not meet for the avowed purpose of impeaching him.

While the legislators were filing out of the building, some of them plainly indignant—for they had come miles for just this—several groups of girls and state employees stood around, plainly enjoying the legislators' discomfiture.

Adjourn to Hotel

The legislators got into automobiles and were whisked down town to their headquarters at 1101 Skiffers hotel.

There they planned to draw papers at once for a petition against Governor J. C. Walton, asking that he be enjoined from interfering with "the lawful assembly of the lower house of the legislature."

Whether or not this petition will be filed in the state supreme court or the United States district court has not yet been determined, Representative W. D. McBee, who issued the call for the session, announced by the fleet of automobiles left the state capital.

Walton Guarded

Major J. C. Campbell, infantry, Oklahoma national guard, issued the following order to the Oklahoma City police department: "Both military and civil officers are directed to disperse all gatherings and to prohibit speeches in the streets that might inflame the citizens."

Supplementary instructions bearing on the above order were issued to the civil police by Chief of police.

Ray Frazier

A double guard was placed about executive mansion this morning. Governor Walton planned to spend the day quietly with his family.

Colonel Buck Walhall, of the "dread shot" and "dread" name, who was present at the session, was guarded by a special guard.

LEINMANS MERGE WITH CLARK'S FOR I. T. S. GAME SUN.

The crack Cleveland Kleinman players will furnish the opposition for the finale of the baseball season at Riverview Park here Sunday.

Two stellar attractions will be between the I. T. S. and the Kleinman Realtors, Cleveland Triple A team, which will be strengthened for the game with Clark's Lunch players. It is remembered that the Clark's Lunches battled for 13 innings before the locals emerged victors by a 5 to 4 score. With the re-enforced line-up of Kleinman players the I. T. S. will have to play their best game of the season to win.

Ray Draegert, local phenom, will oppose Ted Teske in this pitchers battle.

MOULTON CANDIES PLAY O. N. STEELE IN SEASON'S FINAL

The Moulton Candies will close their most successful season on next Sunday afternoon at Cascade Park, and in an endeavor to give their followers a first class exhibition as a curtain dropper, have booked at a big expense, the fast O. N. Steele team, class A aggregation of Cleveland, Champions of the Masonic League, who have been putting up a wonderful brand of baseball the past two months as the last and best attraction of the season.

The O. N. Steele management, having heard of the wonderful showing made by the Moulton Candies last Sunday when they held the fast going triple A outfit to a four to nothing score, after the I. T. S. had waned, they would defeat them by anywhere from 10 to 20 runs, have sent advance notice to manager McCrann that they are coming here with a team that will open their eyes and upset the dope bucket, and that they will be on the long end of the score when they leave this city Sunday evening.

Manager Hickle of the Cleveland aggregation says he has bolstered up his already fast going team with the addition of three former Shupp Plumbers stars who were seen in action here on Sunday, July first when the I. T. S. defeated that organization by the close score of 6 to 5.

With this advance information the Candies are preparing to meet strong opposition, and the hottest battle of the season is looked for. Watch Saturday's paper for time of the game.

ELYRIAN ON LORAIN CARD NEXT MONDAY

LORAIN, Sept. 26.—Two Cleveland boxers will appear at the Lorain Sports Club fight show here Monday night at the Elks auditorium. Walter Zick, one of Jimmy Dunn's fast coming portages, meets Butch Binder, local bantam, in the ten-round main go.

Butch Carney, another youth from the Fifth City, swaps punches with Sammy Marisco of Elyria in the eight session semi-windup. Two other bouts between local boys are also on the card. Thirty rounds of boxing in all are booked for the evening.

VALLEY CITY PLAYS WELLINGTON SATURDAY

WELLINGTON, Sept. 26.—The next football game to be played by the W. H. S. team will be played here Saturday when the Valley City team will be the opponents. The Valley City team is a fast aggregation and will force Wellington to go at top speed to win.

Tagging The Bases

The Giants stepped blithely along to within a single game of the pennant by beating the Reds 3 to 2.

Coming like a bolt from the blue the Athletics won two games from the Indians, 6 to 5, and 5 to 1.

Joe Maires fell heir to his twentieth victory of the season when the Cardinals beat the Dodgers, 4 to 1.

A three run rally in the ninth gave the Tigers a 5 to 4 verdict over the Yankees.

The Pirates mauled four Phil pitchers for 22 hits and won 18 to 6.

Making it three in a row, the Browns beat the Red Sox, 6 to 2.

Barnes shut the Cubs out, 2 to 0, the Braves getting to "Rip" Wheeler, Wichita Falls recruit, in the fourth and ninth.

A season of five thumbed fielding by the White Sox helped the Senators to score a 5 to 2 victory.

Charlie Hubbard is captain of this year's Crimson team.

GAME SUFFERS HUNTERS ALSO BY VIOLATION

COLUMBUS, O., Sept. 26.—Squirrels are plentiful in Ohio this year, according to reports to the State Division of Fish and Game. A little less plentiful than the squirrels are the violators of the hunting laws who are picked up by state game protectors.

Scores have been arrested and fined $25 and costs for hunting without licenses. Many others have been nabbed for bagging more than the legal limit of five squirrels a day. One party of four was caught in Hillsboro recently with 83 squirrels tails. The leader was fined $75 and costs.

Numerous fines of $10 and costs have been imposed on trespassers who hunt on private property without the consent of the owner. A few enthusiasts have been arrested for hunting on Sunday.

Must Have License.

Hunting licenses may be obtained from any county, township, or village clerk for $1. The applicant must be a citizen of the United States. Non-residence licenses cost $15.

The following advice is given by State Fish and Game Chief D. O. Thompson:

Get a hunter's license.

Don't hunt on Sunday.

Don't take more than five squirrels a day nor have more than that number in your possession at any one time.

Stay off private property unless you have the owner's consent.

Don't try to sell your squirrels, it is against the law.

Squirrel season closes midnight of Oct. 29. Rabbit season opens November 15.

Open season on ducks, geese, coot, and gallinule lasts until Dec. 31, and any additional season allowed by federal law for these migratory birds.

The Metropolitan A. A. U. will conduct its pentathlon championship at Newark, on September 29.

The next event of interest to motorist enthusiasts will be the Ohio River Regatta at Cincinnati, September 29-30.

Seven stakes with an aggregate value of over $150,000 will be run at the coming fall meeting at Landonia.

American, English, French and Italian flyers are entered for the seventh international aeroplane race to take place off Cowes Isle of Wight, September 28.

Courising is rapidly growing in favor in many sections of America, but it does not yet approach the degree of popularity it enjoys in England, where something like $2,500,000 is spent on the sport in a single season.

In accordance with a custom of several years standing the University of Michigan will open its football season with a game against Case Scientific school on Oct. 6.

A speed of 250 miles an hour is predicted in the national aviation races for the Pulitzer Trophy, which are to be conducted at St. Louis during the first four days of October. Both the army and naval air services will be represented in this year's contests.

Champion Jack Dempsey's victory over Firpo seems to have put the skids under the Jinx which of late has pursued the pugilistic titleholders. "OUR DISGRACE AT LAW"

In the Cincinnati Post of recent date appeared an editorial under the caption "Our Disgrace at Law" which is exceedingly timely and in view of the fact that the Bar Association is asking that a week be set apart each year to discuss the "Constitution," it is very well to call this matter to the attention of the Bar as has the "Post" and possibly other of the Scripps-Howard League of papers. It says:

"The administration of criminal law in the United States is a disgrace to civilization." Chief Justice William H. Taft's committee told The American Bar Association. "The trial of a criminal seems like a game of chance with all the chances in favor of the criminal, and, if he escapes, he seems to have the sympathy of the sporting public."

"It is a disgrace, judge—a crying shame. It has its funny side, however, as you will have to admit. The lawyers of the country work assiduously, for 51 weeks out of a year, at making it as disgraceful as possible. The remaining one week they meet in solemn session to denounce the disgrace they have so enthusiastically employed themselves in bringing about. That's laughable."

"But all criminals do not have the sympathy of 'the sporting public'—not at all. Your own report, judge, proves that where it flippantly points to the fact that 'We successfully put over 83 largely attended lynchings' the past year."

"Lynchings grow out of lax administration of the criminal laws, largely. It is the easiest thing in the world to obtain the services of lawyers who will do their best to accomplish that lax administration. In some cases, 'the sporting public' rebels and injects itself where the law alone should reign. Then the lynchers, if apprehended, can find more lawyers to aid them in further disgrace of the administration of criminal law."

"There is something wrong with the administration of our criminal laws, judge, but even great judges and lawyers do not seem to know what it is."

GREATER TRADE NEEDS TO BE CULTIVATED

Usually the balance of trade against a country is viewed with considerable interest and if it is increasing, even with some alarm, and particularly if the amount be large. But our attention has been called to the increase of the balance of trade against us with Latin America.

In 1914 our imports from that section of the western continent, that is, the countries of South and Central America, the West Indies and Mexico, totaled $497,000,000, while our exports were $301,000,000. This left a balance against us of $196,000,000. Last year our imports were $679,000,000 and our exports to them $535,000,000. This is a balance of $144,000,000, which showed a marked decrease from 1914. But in the last year ending June 30th, our imports were $1,045,000,000 and exports $639,000,000, or a balance against us of $406,000,000.

These countries are large producers of raw material and not very great consumers of finished products. Low wages, low standards of living all go to reduce the exports from this country to them. While our tariff is protecting our manufacturers, and indirectly we hope the employee, and while we are endeavoring to increase our trade throughout the nation, we must find that in these countries a great deal more missionary work needs to be done before they will be the large buyers that they should be.

The only way you can be sure you will have fish for dinner up here is to take along a can of sardines.

If you catch a muskellunge the guide hits him in the head. Today he forgot his club. Not an Indian club in the boat but there were two dumb bells, so he got along all right.

Guess the fish don't belong to any union. They ought to be organized, maybe then you could get them to strike.

It's very hard to learn the Indian language. Glade Thomas spent all Monday evening trying it and he don't know all of it yet.

Another thing about an Indian is that it's hard to tell their age. Met one and he claimed he was 107 years old. I didn't believe it at first, but his father came along and verified the boy's statement.

The old man claimed he had been busy teaching his mother to ride a bicycle.

The Indians as a whole are not college graduates. Most of them think a prairie schooner has handles on the sides.

Title is the only one in the party getting any fish. Today he caught the limit. Everyone in the party gave him a lot of applause—except five.

We thought that fellow who used to go to school with Phillips might be up here, but I suppose he's in Atlanta.

About the only favorable thing I can say about these lakes is they're not very dusty.

But they must be full of fish, nobody seems to be taking any out.

The trees are at their best, the fall foliage is good to look at. Green, red, orange and about every color except blue, we furnish that.

We came five hundred miles and we're more than ready to get back. Kipling was wrong when he wrote that "Rag and a bone and a hank of hair."

A fool there was and he spent his jack, even as you and I. But he didn't bring any fishes back even as you and I. They called him the fellow who knew his stuff. But the Indian guides seemed to call him bluff. Even as you and I.

Just to make it tougher when we were coming up Broad street we met a kid with a string of fish three feet long and when Al Jaco asked him where he got 'em he told us "Vermilion river."

About two more trips like 'a and I know six boy friends of 'a who will take the Russian never again.

WHO'S WHO IN THE DAY'S NEWS

GEN. WEYLER

The man whose blood rule of Cuba before the war with Spain, brought upon him the nickname of "Butcher," Gen. Weyler, is now looked to by Spain to bring that country out of its present crisis arising out of the Moroccan situation.

Weyler was called away a few months ago from his command of the Moroccan situation but was so disgusted with the program being carried out that he returned home. Now, however, he has been asked to assume full charge.

It is believed that, despite his iron-handed methods of dealing with such situations that he will urge, in this case, a modification of Spain's present campaign.

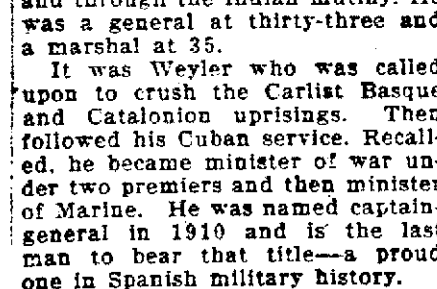

Gen. Weyler's full name is Don Valeriano Weyler Nicolau, first Marquis of Tenerife, Duke del Rubi and Grande of Spain. As head of the Spanish general staff he will command the second largest standing army in the world, France alone supporting a larger one.

Weyler was born in 1838. He has served seventy years in the Spanish army. He got his baptism of fire in San Domingo. He wore an officers uniform in the Crimea and through the Indian mutiny. He was a general at thirty-three and a marshal at 35.

It was Weyler who was called upon to crush the Carlist Basque and Catalonian uprisings. Then followed his Cuban service. Recalled, he became minister of war under two premiers and then minister of Marine. He was named captain-general in 1910 and is the last man to bear that title—a proud one in Spanish military history.

Thinking about what you are doing is better than thinking about what you have done.

Back to the days of Mesopotamia a vision of a new era when the world would be free of disease and when centuries would be counted as mere children, was painted by Dr. Charles H. Mayo of Rochester, Minn., professor of surgery at the Mayo Foundation, in a recent address.

"In the last thirty-five years the development of the medical profession and the changes in the treatment of disease have been not a little short of wonderful," he said.

"The average life of the human being has already been prolonged as a result of the advances made in medicine and surgery. This does not mean altogether that old people have attained a greater age—though remedies have been found for many alleged incurable diseases—but that age has been added on at the other end of life in decreased infant and child mortality."

John O. Walton, whose vigorous opposition to the Ku Klux Klan and its ways has made him an outstanding figure in the day's news, is serving the first year of his four-year term in the governorship of Oklahoma. Governor Walton is an Indian by birth, and of Southern Quaker stock on his father's side. His boyhood was passed in Fort Smith, Ark., to which place he had removed with his parents at an early age. Equipped with a high school education he started on his career as a locomotive fireman, later becoming an engineer. With money saved from his earnings he took a course in engineering at a St. Louis school and then settled in Oklahoma City, where he attained marked success as head of an engineering and construction company. After a residence of only two years in his new home he was elected mayor of Oklahoma City. His success as a municipal executive led to his nomination and subsequent election to the governorship on a fusion ticket, supported by the farming and laboring elements.

LEGISLATORS ON TENNESSEE JAUNT

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—A train bearing 102 members of the Ohio legislature, who attended the first legislative session in Cincinnati in eight years, left for Nashville, Tenn., this morning over the Nashville and Chattanooga Railway for a three-day jaunt. The legislators will be met at the hotel by the law makers of the state, and will be accompanied by the judges of the Hamilton county court of common pleas and a number of prominent citizens.

A dinner at a hotel in the city of the legislators at the Cincinnati hotel last night, showed that 78 of the 130 members of the house and 24 of the 35 members of the senate were present, as also were Lieutenant Governor Earl D. Brown, Attorney General C. C. Brown, and most of the employees of the state, including Joseph A. Crowl, clerk of the house, and John P. Maynard, clerk of the senate. This is the largest attendance of assemblymen ever known at a reunion, and with their wives and other guests, the attendance nearly reaches 300.

WHEAT FOR WRECKING FREIGHT LOCOMOTIVE

CINCINNATI, Sept. 26.—John Patterson is today under indictment by the Hamilton county grand jury for "jumping on a railroad locomotive" and "incidentally wrecking the locomotive." Patterson, who is seeing America first, as an uninvited guest of the railroads, was seen standing with a locomotive up but unattended, in the yard of the Norfolk and Western railroad. He pulled a lever and the locomotive started, and started rapidly. Patterson pulled all the levers he could see, but all that happened was more speed, and in despair he jumped, just before his engine crashed into another and rolled over into the ch.

Search of the statutes of North Carolina, where the incident occurred, revealed no charge more applicable to the circumstances than "jumping on a locomotive." Patterson was when he jumped it was off, and did not.

NEW IDEA IN BURLESQUE AT RIALTO MON.

BARNEY GOOGLE SPARK PLUG AT RIALTO FRIDAY

Billy Debeck's "Barney Google and Spark Plug" of which William K. Wells, author of George White's Scandals, Ted Lewis' Revue and the new Greenwich Village Follies, and the music by Con Conrad, author of the biggest song hit of the year "Barney Google," has met with a vogue that is little short of amazing you can really call the thing a triumph without feeling that you are using a cloying word. "Barney Google" not only has fun qualities of the very highest order, but it has a characteristic that makes it unique—that makes it impossible to quote anything like "Barney Google." This characteristic is covered by the familiar designation "the race track comic."

"Barney Google and Spark Plug" bubbles and sparkles to overflowing with witty dialogue and funny situations and is from the pen of William K. Wells who used the famous cartoons by Billy Debeck for a foundation. Considerable comment of a very favorable nature is heard of the artistic and effective scenic equipment, also of

AMERICAN LEGION

FISH FRY A SUCCESS

The fish fry and regular meeting staged by Elyria Post No. 12, the American Legion, last evening proved to be a decided success. Arrangements had been made to serve 50 members and every place was taken. "Little Joe" had prepared some real eats with all the trimmings that go with a fish fry. When the guests were seated, Roy Hult, chairman of the fish fry committee, spoke to the members present and said he wanted the several questions which appeared upon the announcement answered. One question, "Can a Fish Fry?" was decided in the negative so far as the fish which were ready to be served were concerned. The fish were still in the kitchen so each able chose by lot a waiter for that table and this waiter was required to serve the guests.

Various other features were had and then a regular business meeting was held. The big feature of this meeting was the deciding to stage a minstrel show immediately after Armistice day and to make it a part of Elyria's Armistice day celebration. Arrangements for such minstrel show are well under way and shortly the boys will be heard at work to stage for Elyrians the best local talent show ever staged here.

CIRCLEVILLE

A woman may tell her lover of her love for him; she can never tell her child, it is too deep.

To be dissipated is to use the first half of your life to make the second half miserable.

Every thinking life creates its own atmosphere, and is responsible for its influence.

When people delight to tell the faults of others they tell at least one fault of their own.

such action. It is a psychological or moral condition rather than an economic condition. Business and the flow of money is like the flow of blood in one's veins. Anything which retards circulation harms everyone.

"An analysis of the balance sheet of our large industries shows that they are very largely 'made or unmade' by their 'Accounts Receivable,' which is simply the accountant's name for money being owed to them. For instance, the fertilizer business, as a business, is perfectly sound. Not only are fertilizers needed but they are needed more every year. It is a fundamental industry and yet most of the fertilizer companies are having very hard sledding at the present time, and their securities are selling very low. The reason primarily is that farmers are buying fertilizers on credit and are not paying their bills. The chain stores, on the other hand, are very flourishing today and their stocks are selling high. The main reason for this is that these chain stores are doing a cash business. They have no 'Accounts Receivable' and are able to discount their bills and carry large cash balances.

"In the case of almost every corporation the credit policy is an important factor and any investor buying securities today should give it careful consideration. This is especially true today when industrial stocks are so much more popular than railroad and public utility stocks. Notwithstanding their troubles the railroads and public utilities do a cash business. This applies not only to transportation companies, but also to lighting and telephone companies.

"All of this means that one of the best things we can do to bring back prosperity is to promptly pay our bills. Moreover, this applies to wage workers as well as employers; to retailers as well as to manufacturers; to people in small country towns as well as to people in the large cities. The little bills must be paid before the big ones can be paid. Before the manufacturer can pay his bills, the wholesaler must pay the manufacturer; before the jobber can pay the wholesaler, the retailer must pay the jobber; and before the retailer can pay the jobber, you and I must pay him. Prompt settlements will do much toward keeping the business from going lower. The Bab-sonchart now shows it at 10% below normal."

SKIN TROUBLE
Resinol

No matter how long you may have been tortured and disfigured by some itching, burning skin eruption, just apply a little of that soothing, healing Resinol Ointment to the irritated surface and see if the suffering is not relieved at once. Healing usually begins that very minute, and the skin gets well quickly and easily unless the trouble is due to some serious internal disorder.

Doctors prescribe Resinol widely, so when you try it, you are using a remedy of proven value.

Resinol Soap
is ideal for general toilet use. It is unsurpassed for the bath and shampoo.
